Rose Coghian has determined to revive "Diplomacy" next month at the Star Theatre, where she plays an engagement. It is her intention to secure as many members of the original cast as possible, and she is already negotiating with Mme. Ponisi. Charles Coghian, who was expected here on the liftered y necessary of the Original with two new plays, will also be in the cast. This is the season of revivals, and "Diplomacy" should be a particularly interesting one.
